Mr. Johnson's Message

ONCE a man working in a chain factory broke the monotony of his labor by giving each link a name as he joined it with the others. Often he would use the names of his fellow workers. One day his companion, Joe, was not at his work and our chain worker was unable to include his name. Completing one of the short but sturdy chains, he threw it upon the bench and remarked, "That chain will be no good. I had to leave Joe out of it."

Had you ever thought of making a chain by which to live? What are the links that you will have to leave out and which ones will it be necessary for you to include to make a chain of strength? Are you able to weigh values and select the best things for your chain of life? Would you add one small link labeled "Neglect of Duty", one link "A selfish act", one named "Unreliable"? You could not include "Rebellion". These would weaken your chain, while very many such links would render it entirely useless and would endanger the life which hangs upon it.

I believe that you would keep adding virtues, new accomplishments, more and more links of patience, honest endeavor, acts of good sportsmanship, days of unselfish service to others until you are at last able to clamp on the links of success and happiness.

As I think over the short interviews that I have had with each of the members of the graduating classes of 1936, I feel as one who has tried to get a knowledge of a good book by reading a review. Much of the best is not known and many of the valuable thoughts of the author are lost and the book cannot be truly enjoyed. But in the months and years that have passed I have seen each one of you as a part of the group and I have become increasingly aware of your abilities in one way or another so that along with my regret at losing you as a member of Herbert Hoover High School I have great and well founded hopes for your future success in life.

History of the School

WHEN, on May 15, 1928, citizens in San Diego voted bonds to erect another high school in the city, a site was selected at Highland and El Cajon Boulevard in East San Diego. The building contract was let on August 18, 1929; and the cornerstone for the Herbert Hoover High School was laid on October 26, 1929. On July 2, 1930, the school was officially accepted by the San Diego Board of Education.

The nine hundred students enrolled on September 2, 1930, chose the commissioner type of school government to rule them during their high school years.

Herbert Hoover High School was dedicated on April 24, 1931, by an elaborate ceremony in which the dedication speech was given by Ed Seidel, the first Commissioner of Welfare.

President Hoover wrote the school a letter in which he expressed his appreciation of the fact that the school had been named in honor of him.

Third Row: Nolen, Shell, Regnery.

THE Senior A Class of January, 1936, presented "Icebound" at three well-attended evening performances.

The play, a serious drama, centered about a small town family in the early 20's. The story concerned the reactions of the members of an emotionally ice-bound family, when their wealthy relative died and left them nothing. The black sheep of the clan was portrayed by David Regnery. Mary Paxton as the servant heiress played the feminine lead.

The supporting cast included Phyllis Bowman, Bill Loudon, Charles Nolen, Helen Withers, Joe Shell, Josephine La Marre, Robert Gray, June Manard, and Carolyn Parr.

The January Class

THE January class of '36, when organized during the spring term of '35, elected as Senior B officers: president, Joe Shell; vice-president, David Regnery; secretary, Murl Gibson; treasurer, Josephine LeMarre. They selected and ordered their rings and sweaters during the spring semester.

When the senior A class organized in the fall, Josephine LeMarre was elected president and Murl Gibson, vice-president. Charles Nolen was elected secretary and Shirley Hannah, treasurer. Representative seniors were selected to do the class business and manage the affairs of graduation.

Their senior A production, "Icebound," given on three nights, January 5, 6, 7, by the best actors in the class, was very successful.

The social activities began on January 15, when the class went to Pine Valley on the traditional Senior A Ditch Day. The ball was held at Casa de Manana in La Jolla on January 28. The vesper services at the First Presbyterian Church on January 26 were impressive. At the Tower Day ceremonies on January 29, the class recognized its leaders and bade farewell to the school.

The graduation exercises at State College on January 30 were characterized by two outstanding performances: a fine address by the class orator, David Regnery, and the singing of the class song, composed by Joe Liggins.

CLASS MOTTO:
« « The only wealth which will not decay is knowledge.

THE June class of '36 organized late in November and elected class officers. Bill Miller was president; Roy Engle, vice president; Betty Rowe, secretary; and Walter Bickerton, treasurer. Senior sweaters and rings were chosen and ordered during the fall term.

When the class reorganized for the spring term, Bill Miller was re-elected as class president. John Grenfell became vice president, and Don De Lauer was chosen for the combined office of secretary and treasurer. A cabinet of twenty members was appointed to manage the affairs of the class.

"Green Fire", the Senior A play, produced by C. Gerald Hasty and a production staff composed of senior class members, was played on the first, second, and third of April by a group of the ablest actors in the class.

Senior social activities began on May 7 with the annual Ditch Day at Pine Valley. The ball took place June 4 at Hotel del Coronado. Vesper services were held June 7, and Tower Day ceremonies June 10.

MUSIC

Music

THE music department, composed of classes in theory and practice, has had a very busy year.

During the fall semester, the Glee Clubs, music history class, and music appreciation class were under the supervision of Miss Leonora Jenkins. Under her able direction the Glee Clubs made many public appearances. Mrs. Mercedes Miller returned for the spring semester. Miss Margaret Capps was a cadet under Mrs. Miller, teaching the music appreciation and music history classes.

The orchestra, band, and harmony class were under the supervision of Mr. Frank T. Close. The band made its chief appearances in the fall at the football games. In the harmony class the student learns the theory of the construction of music. In the orchestra and Glee Clubs the theory is applied.

Orchestra

THERE has been real harmony at Hoover High this year, and a large part of the credit for this happy condition rightfully goes to the forty-five members of the Hoover orchestra under the able direction of Mr. Frank Close. While this year the orchestra's activities have been to some extent removed from the school and the class rooms, every opportunity for musical training and experience has been given to all of our students who sought and persevered.

The Exposition Junior Symphony, which is taking such a prominent part in matters musical at our Exposition, owes its successful participation largely to our own organization and to our director. That San Diego may soon have a year-round Junior Symphony orchestra is the hope of our director, Mr. Close, and of our organization.

Our orchestra enjoyed a prominent part at the mid-term Commencement and at the annual Open House. The big concert, held in May, proved to be one of the high lights of the year's orchestral events.

The Annual joins the Seniors of the orchestra in the confident hope that the greatest successes for the Herbert Hoover orchestra may lie in the years ahead.

Girls' Glee Club

THE Choral Department of the Hoover School is under the guidance of Mrs. Mercedes Miller—assisted by three accompanists, Gerry Sears, Gail Tussey, and Richard Stanley. It consists of Boys' Glee, Girls' Glee, and Choral Club. This semester the choral ensemble has one hundred and fifty voices.

The Choral Club numbers forty and its personnel is chosen from the Glee Clubs. This group carries the burden of most of the programs—appearing on an average of once a week in service clubs, churches, and other organizations.

The two outstanding programs are the Christmas Pageant and the opera. The latter was not given this year. In its stead an elaborate program of southern songs—enhanced by one of Mr. Hasty's famous stage sets—was given for open house. The entire choral department presented two programs at the Exposition, and again sang at the Ford Bowl for graduation. The Choral groups furnished all music for Vesper services.

Two social events are traditional in the department, the annual Spring Dance, and the picnic at Mission Beach.

The affairs of the three groups were ably managed this year by the presidents and secretaries—James McCoy and Lydia Sheperd of Choral Club, Cecelia Callahan and Charlotte Rouchleau of Girls' Glee, and Richard Varley and Duane Kilpatrick of Boys' Glee.

Football

COACH John Perry three years ago started a sophomore team of great quality. Last year most of these boys played their positions on the varsity and finished a tough free-lance schedule, losing only one game. The 1935 football team was composed mostly of these same Cardinals with the addition of left-end Walt Bickerton and several others. Quarterback Joe Shell, three year letterman, was elected captain.

At the opening of the season the team was as follows: Walt Bickerton, Don Trimble, Gordon Ferran, Wallace Slattery, Robert Schenck, Bob Summers, Bill Ondler, Joe Shell, Roy Engle, Morris Siraton, and George Markle.

First to go down under the attack of the Cardinals was Beverly Hills; Inglewood was next, 31-0. Hoover continued this winning streak without being scored upon until it met Santa Monica. In spite of travel, a poor field, and several injuries, the Red Birds were tied by the Samohis, 0-0, but still our goal was uncrossed. The game with Redondo, Hoover 13 and Redondo 2, finished the season with members of the Bay League unable to cross the Hoover goal.

Then came the battle between San Diego and Herbert Hoover High. For the first time in three years the Red Birds won the city championship from Russ. Roy Engle was pronounced the most outstanding player of the day when he scored seven points in the last quarter to win a victory over the Cavemen's six.

When Hoover entered the Southern California playoffs, the team was defeated by Muir Tech. Nevertheless, Herbert Hoover, with many honors and trophies won throughout the season, remains one of the most dangerous competitors in football.

Varsity Basketball

THE VARSITY basketball team of '35 elected Walter Bickerton captain elect for the season of '36. Around him Coach Maxwell built a fine high school team in spite of the fact that eight of the squad were playing their first year of basketball. Walter Harvey, playing his first basketball, filled his guard position like a veteran. Shell, Prusa, Haddock, and Kunkle constituted the team that finished a strong third in the Bay League.

Coach Maxwell coached his last season of basketball this year, finishing with an astounding record. His class "B" teams have won 56 out of 57 games. The varsity has a record of 43 out of 55. During Coach Maxwell's career the basketball teams of Herbert Hoover have won 112 out of 127 games.

"B" Basketball

THE Herbert Hoover "B" basketball team entered its first Bay League season with one of the strongest teams in southern California. Three veterans of the previous year's championship team (Phelps, Johnson, and DeLauer) returned to uphoid the "B" record and fight for another title. McNeil and White also returned from the '35 squad, and with a group of five reserves the team was determined to win its first Bay League crown.

To start right, the "Bee's" won the A. A. U. championship and were classed the best-coached team in San Diego County. Next, with great ease the team trounced all the members of the Bay League, finishing the season by beating Redondo 51 to 14.

Last, the "Bee's", without very much trouble, brought the S. C. I. F. trophy back to Herbert Hoover for the fourth straight championship. The team averaged 50 points per game against the opponents' 19.

Track

THIS year our school was represented by a track team worthy of the name, Hoover High. The first great event preceded the regular season, when Bud Berg won the southern California cross country race.

The regular season opened with a group of practice meets. The meet with Compton was easily won. The unexpected event of the year happened when six of the boys went to the Aggies' meet and placed fifth against the competition of full track teams. Our relay team showed its strength by taking first place. Berg, Grenfell, Harvey, and Longtin, our relay team, also won medals and honors in the football throw, 880 yard runs, 220 and 100-yard dash.

Baseball

HOOVER has had good powerful baseball teams ever since the school opened and has turned out many professional prospects, but this year Wos Caldwell could boast of the greatest team in the history of Hoover. Coach has often said that this year he has had two of the best infields in Southern California. The first team is composed of Williams, Captain Engle, Means, Ondler, Curtis, Villarino, Ballinger, and Bennet.

The season was sensationally opened with the winning of the San Diego American Legion Tournament. Next the team entered the Pomona Tournament and won the consolation trophy.

The Bay League season started. Santa Monica was defeated, 4-0; Compton was unable to hold its own against the vicious attack of the Cardinals; and Redondo fell before the effective pitching of Ted Williams by a score of 5-2. Hoover, in the third sport this season, defeated Inglewood, 17-0. In spite of the six foot four inch pitcher, Woodrow Wilson was easily defeated, 14-1; and Hoover again won a Bay League championship. Ted Williams has made a pronounced record this season by allowing the Bay League only ten hits, and accounting for over sixty strike outs.

Girl's Sports

BESIDES the regular physical education work, better carriage has been stressed in the girls' gym classes. Under the able direction of Miss Upp, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. Stanley the walking posture of the girls has been improved.

After school volleyball, speedball, and basketball games were played by those interested in athletics. The girls who participated in these games were entitled to membership in the Girls' Athletic Association. Those who received a grade of "A" in their gym work were also eligible for membership in this organization. The G.A.A. elected officers and enjoyed various activities.

On the thirteenth of March a group of Senior girls who intend to enter State College were entertained at a play day and dinner given for them at the college gym for the purpose of acquainting them with the college and the Aztec co-ed.

The girls of the tumbling team distinguished themselves at several official appearances of the year. At the Elks' charity game on the twenty-sixth of October they displayed their mastery of the art of tumbling with much credit to themselves and the school.

CLUBS

How Society Promotes World Peace

THE staff has chosen for the theme of this annual, World Peace. We chose this subject because it is of such vital interest to us as students, and to the world as a whole. Much has been done, and much is being done to bring about a better understanding among the different nations to prevent the world's becoming enmeshed in another futile struggle. We have studied in our classrooms in an effort to understand the changing conditions that make it difficult for a nation to stay out of war—whether it be military rule, economic rivalry, race hatred, imperialistic desires, or other causes. Now, it is up to us to apply the ideas and theories we have learned.

Many organizations and clubs outside the school have been doing much to keep alive the interest in peace—an essential if any results are to be obtained. Clubs hold discussions on current developments such as the recent Senate investigations; many organizations sponsor the appearance of well informed speakers whom the public is invited to hear. International groups, through mutual interest, are doing much to bring about a cosmopolitan attitude of mind with the hope of bringing the nations closer together. But these leaders can do nothing if beneath them is a citizenry that can be easily swayed by propagandists, who cleverly cover up their selfish motives with idealistic slogans. The people must be fortified against a deluge of war propaganda by knowing the purposes and methods of propagandist agencies, and through a better understanding of our foreign neighbors.

We who are educated along these lines must keep our minds and eyes open to find a way through this maze of economical and political problems to a peaceful and forward-looking world.

California Scholarship Federation

THE Hoover Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation has completed another successful year, and a large organization of honor students have enjoyed the term's activities planned by their faculty sponsor, Miss Alma E. Giddings.

Miss Giddings, the officers, and several members of the chapter attended a luncheon and meeting at the semi-annual county conference of the C. S. F. which was held at Sweetwater High School, March 28.

At the Southern Region C. S. F. Convention held at Belmont High School, Los Angeles, April 25, Hoover was represented.

Early in the spring semester the C. S. F. gave a variety show for an assembly which was directed by Mrs. Lee Pingree. The auditorium was filled to capacity, and the scholarship fund was swelled considerably.

The officers of the year were popular members of the student body.

Hi-Y

THE activities of the Hi-Y have been numerous, beginning with the reception of the Beverly Hills' special train. The Hi-Y delivered Thanksgiving baskets and also presented an assembly to the student body, featuring Merle Waterman, who entertained and spoke on the Four "C's". This assembly was received with much enthusiasm.

Through the leadership of Jack Haddock, president; Duane Kilpatrick, vice president; Merle Alberty, secretary; Robert Lewis, treasurer; Bower Forbes, chairman of committees, and Mr. Meeumenberg, faculty adviser, and through the co-operation of Tom Schumacher of the Y. M. C. A., the Hi-Y Club has had a successful season.

The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character, and to stand on and for the platform of Clean Speech, Clean Sports, Clean Scholarship, and Clean Living.

Girl Reserves

THE Girl Reserves of Herbert Hoover completed a most successful year not only from a social program standpoint, but from the point of view of character building.

The theme, "Making the Most of Me," was carried out throughout the year, and many interesting phases of this subject were discussed.

Outstanding social events of the year were the Semi-Formal Dance, a Pa-Ma-and-Me Banquet, and a skating party,

Camp days were also enjoyed during Easter vacation at beautiful Camp Kiwanis, Hulburd Grove.

ONLY when the work is finished can the editor look back over a semester of effort and appreciate the splendid help and co-operation given him by fellow students as well as the friendly counsel of faculty members. It is then when he realizes the tremendous amount of work which others have put into the publication of the annual.

To Mr. Hal Brucker and his associates of Neyenesch Printers, Inc., and to Osser Studios we extend thanks. To all others who have helped in this work we express our sincere appreciation.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

COMPANY E of Herbert Hoover has made great strides in the advancement of military training during the last school year. The system of competitive examination for promotion has been greatly strengthened by the use of monthly examinations. Through cooperating with the San Diego Reserve Officers, splendid opportunities for practical extended order drill have been profitably utilized.

Hoover cadets attaining high rank during the fall semester were Duane Kilpatrick, Captain, commanding Company E; and Lieutenants Fairbairn Anderson, George Couvrette, Richard Varley, Charles Withers, Jack Backus, William Wilkinson, and Ralph Richards.

During the spring semester the officers were Duane Kilpatrick, Colonel, commanding the units of Herbert Hoover, San Diego, and Point Loma High Schools; Richard Varley, First Lieutenant, as Regimental Adjutant; Fairbairn Anderson, Major, commanding the units of Herbert Hoover and Point Loma High Schools; Charles Withers, Captain, commanding Company E; and Lieutenants George Couvrette, Jack Backus, Jack Highley, and Jack Huntoon.

Dias Cardinales

UNDER the leadership of Fairbairn Anderson as Managing Editor and George Couvrette as Assistant Managing Editor, members of the annual staff have been at work since early March gathering material for the year-book.

Combining the January and June graduation class memory books has resulted in a larger annual. A new and less expensive process of photographic reproduction, offset printing, has enabled the Dias Cardinales to print more pictures than would have been possible with the engraving method.

The annual staff members who had charge of the various sections of the book were Associate Editors, Janet Pittman and Catherine Connet; Art, Elva San Clemente and Lillian Bankerd; Mechanical Drawing, Theodore Brunner, Elmer Lowry, and George McFarland; Music, Marianna Schrepel; Sports, Don DeLauer; and Seniors, Helen Withers.

The staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank Miss Kokanour of the Commercial department, Miss Grogan and Mrs. Funke of the Art department, Miss Bassett of the English department, and Mr. Black of the Mechanical Drawing department for the time and co-operation they have given the Dias Cardinales.
